- (3) In section 86 (consultation in relation to, and publication of, complaints scheme)—
 - (a) after subsection (1) insert—
 - "(1A) The complaints scheme may not include any provision that limits, excludes or caps the regulators' liability under the complaints scheme.";
 - (b) in subsection (2) after "draft" insert "complaints scheme".
- (4) In section 87 (investigation of complaints)—
 - (a) for subsection (5) substitute—

 - (b) to the extent that the remedy sought by the complainant or considered appropriate by the investigator does not involve the making of a compensatory payment to the complainant, recommend or require that the regulator remedy the matter complained of on any basis specified by the investigator or take other appropriate steps to rectify its conduct in that matter.";
 - (b) after subsection (5) insert—
 - "(5A) There is no limit on the quantum of compensation that the investigator may recommend to be paid under subsection (5)(a).
 - (5B) In determining the amount of any compensatory payment to be recommended under subsection (5)(a), the investigator must take into account—

- (a) whether the regulator that is the subject of the complaint was the primary or secondary cause of loss (the fact that a regulator is found to be a secondary cause of loss may reduce but does not absolve them from liability or responsibility under the complaints scheme); and
 - (b) the fact that any compensation payment recommended to a regulator under subsection (5)(a) must ultimately be funded by levies upon the industry.
- (5C) Where the investigator requires that the regulator remedies a matter or takes a step under subsection (5)(b), the investigator is entitled to order the quashing of any declaration, decision or guidance, the revocation or issuance of any statement or the amendment of any rule, guidance or other publication, and the relevant regulator must follow such requirement, unless it successfully overturns the requirement pursuant to subsection (6).”;

 - (6A) In the case of a referral by a regulator, the costs of any such proceedings, including all the costs of the complainant, must be borne entirely by the regulator.”;
 - (d) omit subsection (7).”

Member’s explanatory statement

This amendment would make the Financial Regulators Complaints Commissioner’s decisions legally binding on the regulators (other than as to damages payable by the regulators, which would remain a recommendation and ex gratia) and would permit complaints to be made where the regulators have failed to exercise their general functions in accordance with their statutory objectives. The Financial Regulators Complaints Commissioner’s binding decisions could be referred to the Tribunal.
