- 5 If a person is the provider of more than one age-restricted service, the duties set out in this section apply in relation to each such service.
- 6 The duty set out in paragraph 1 applies in relation to all users, not just those who begin to use a service after that duty begins to apply.

Member’s explanatory statement

This new Clause would introduce duties on online marketplaces to limit child access to listings of knives, and to take proactive steps to identify and remove any listings of knives or similar products which refer to violence or self-harm. While online sales of knives are not illegal, under-18s (under-16s in Scotland) should not be able to purchase them.

Clause 79

186A Page 71, line 20, leave out paragraph (b)

Member's explanatory statement

This amendment omits a provision about recouping OFCOM's preparatory costs via fees under Part 6 of the Bill, because it is now intended to recoup all preparatory costs incurred before the fees regime is in operation via the charging of additional fees under Schedule 10 (see also the amendment to Schedule 10 in the Minister's name).

Clause 80

LORD PARKINSON OF WHITLEY BAY

186B Page 71, line 26, leave out from "incurred" to end of line 27 and insert "before the first day of the initial charging year."

- (a) preparations for the exercise of their online safety functions, or
- (b) the exercise of their online safety functions;"

Member's explanatory statement

Schedule 10 enables OFCOM to charge additional fees to recover certain online safety costs which are met by the retention of receipts under the Wireless Telegraphy Act 2006. This amendment extends the Schedule 10 regime to cover all costs incurred before the main fees regime under Part 6 of the Bill is in operation (as opposed to only covering preparatory costs incurred before the commencement of clause 79).

- (3) In subsection (2), after paragraph (b) insert –
  - “(c) made available on any other online environment operated by providers of regulated user-to-user services (see section 3 of the Online Safety Act 2023).”
- (4) After subsection (2) insert –
  - “(3) OFCOM must, within the period of two years beginning with the day on which the Online Safety Act 2023 is passed, and every three years thereafter, submit to the Secretary of State –

  - (4) Upon receipt of any assessment under subsection (3), the Secretary of State must, as soon as practicable, lay the assessment before both Houses of Parliament.””

Member's explanatory statement

This amendment would update Ofcom's media literacy duties under the Communications Act 2003, including introducing a requirement for Ofcom to lay an assessment of its online media literacy work before Parliament (via the Secretary of State) every three years.

After Clause 84

LORD KNIGHT OF WEYMOUTH
LORD STOREY
BARONESS MORRIS OF YARDLEY

Member’s explanatory statement

This amendment seeks to probe how to ensure other public bodies assist Ofcom in its relevant regulatory functions, including education bodies such as Ofsted helping to raise the quality of media literacy in schools and colleges.

LORD CLEMENT-JONES

190 Insert the following new Clause—

“General duties in relation to privacy

- (1) Subsection (2) applies where OFCOM is deciding whether to exercise any powers under this Act.
- (2) OFCOM must have regard to—
  - (a) whether what is sought to be achieved by the relevant exercise of powers under this Act could reasonably be achieved by other less intrusive means,
  - (b) the public interest in the integrity and security of telecommunication services, and
  - (c) any other aspects of the public interest in the protection of privacy.
- (3) The duties under subsection (2)—
  - (a) apply so far as they are relevant in the particular context, and
  - (b) are subject to the need to have regard to other considerations that are also relevant in that context.
- (4) The other considerations may, in particular, include—
  - (a) the requirements of the Human Rights Act 1998, and
  - (b) other requirements of public law.”

Member’s explanatory statement

This new Clause requires that OFCOM has a duty in relation to privacy when exercising powers granted to it under the provisions of the Online Safety Bill.

LORD MOYLAN
BARONESS FOX OF BUCKLEY

191 Insert the following new Clause –

“OFCOM guidance: duty to have special regard to freedom of expression

- (1) In producing, revising, or replacing any guidance under this Act, OFCOM must have special regard to the importance of protecting the rights of users of a service, and (in relation to search services and combined services) interested persons, to freedom of expression within the law.
- (2) On publishing any guidance under this Act, including revised or replacement guidance, OFCOM must publish a statement accompanying such guidance setting out how it has complied with the duty set out in subsection (1).”

Member’s explanatory statement

This amendment inserts a new Clause requiring OFCOM to have special regard to freedom of expression in producing, revising or replacing any guidance under the Bill; and to publish a statement, with any guidance, setting out how it has complied with this duty.

Member’s explanatory statement

There are some platforms which, whilst attracting small user numbers, are hubs for extreme hateful content and should be regulated as larger user-to-user services.

LORD GRIFFITHS OF BURRY PORT
BARONESS PARMINTER
BARONESS BULL

192A Page 216, line 31, at end insert –

- “(1A) Regulations made under sub-paragraph (1) must provide for any regulated user-to-user service which OFCOM assesses as posing a very high risk of harm due to suicide, self-harm, or eating disorder content to be included within Category 1, regardless of the number of users.”

Member’s explanatory statement

- “(3A) The Secretary of State must make regulations specifying conditions for services that meet the child user condition and enable or promote harmful content and activity as set out in Schedule (Online harms to children), and combined services, relating to each of the following –

Schedule 11 - continued

- (a) number of users,
- (b) functionalities of the service, or
- (c) any other characteristics, including the level of risk of harm of the service, or factors relating to the service, that the Secretary of State considers relevant.”

Member’s explanatory statement

This amendment is consequential to the amendment to Clause 3 which adds a new category of services which are likely to be accessed by children and enable or promote harmful activity and content to children, and would specify the threshold conditions in the same manner as for user to user and search services.

After Clause 86

LORD STEVENSON OF BALMACARA

194 Insert the following new Clause—

“Provisional re-categorisation of a Part 3 service

- (1) This section applies in relation to OFCOM’s duty to maintain the register of categories of certain Part 3 services under section 86.

  - (a) consider that a Part 3 service not included in a particular part of the register is likely to meet the threshold conditions relevant to that part, and
  - (b) reasonably consider that urgent application of duties relevant to that part is necessary to avoid or mitigate significant harm,

OFCOM may require the service to comply immediately with such duties on a provisional basis pending full re-assessment of the service.”

Member’s explanatory statement

This new Clause makes clear that Ofcom may provisionally re-categorise a regulated service, if they are of the view that the service meets the threshold for the new category. This would, for instance, allow a small online forum to become subject to more stringent regulation if Ofcom believed this would mitigate serious harm to users of that forum.

- (1A) Risk assessments under paragraph (1)(e) must identify areas where the regulatory regime is not future-proofed and the risks arising from these areas.”

Member’s explanatory statement

This amendment would require OFCOM to carry out a broad risk assessment (for the purpose of future-proofing only) to fully inform the Secretary of State’s periodic review of the regime. The risk assessment is not linked to enforcement action and will not impact freedom of expression.

LORD RUSSELL OF LIVERPOOL
LORD ALTON OF LIVERPOOL

Member's explanatory statement

This amendment also sets out where a named individual may have committed an offence in failure to comply with information notices from coroners. Currently there is a maximum fine of £1000 for failure to comply with a coroner's section 5 notice.*

Member’s explanatory statement

*This amendment puts Ofcom’s powers at the disposal of a coroner where there is reason to suspect that a regulated company has information relevant to the death of a child. 218L Page 119, line 40, at end insert –

“(1A) OFCOM may make an interim access restriction order lasting up to six months in relation to a regulated service where they consider that –
(a) the grounds in subsection (3) apply in relation to the service, and
(b) the service includes pornographic content.”

Member’s explanatory statement

This will allow Ofcom to temporarily block access to a pornographic website that is not applying age verification or breaching other requirements for 6 months without a separate court order in each case.

218M Page 120, line 13, at end insert –

“(3A) OFCOM may apply to the court for interim access restriction orders against multiple regulated services with one application, through the use of a schedule of relevant services which includes all the information required by subsection (3).”

Member’s explanatory statement

This would pre-empt a possible legal challenge which could argue Ofcom acted unfairly if it relied only upon the Civil Procedure Rules to make an application to the court to block access or services to multiple services at the same time.

- (2) Subsection (1) applies whether or not C or B has made A aware of the duties under this Act.

- (6) For the purposes of this section, A is associated with B if B is a user or group of users accessed through a platform’s brand name, related app or website, or other identifying entry point.
- (7) Whether or not—
  - (a) A is a person who performs services for or on behalf of C, or
  - (b) B is a subsidiary of C,

- (8) If A is an employee of C, it is to be presumed (unless the contrary is shown) that A is a person who performs services for or on behalf of C.”

Member’s explanatory statement

This new Clause is to probe whether the Bill’s enforcement provisions will apply to companies or subsidiaries which would be considered by a user to be associated with a regulated entity. The amendment makes a regulated entity liable for activities taken throughout its supply chain, with the aim of preventing a platform from outsourcing responsibility or risk to a subsidiary or contractor.
