 - “UK consumer connectable product” has the meaning given in section 54 of the Product Security and Telecommunications Infrastructure Act 2022.”

Member's explanatory statement

This amendment, and another in Baroness Hayman's name, would require the Secretary of State to ban practices which prevent repair and prematurely terminate software support within 12 months of Royal Assent. It also requires the Secretary of State to publish a right to access repair strategy within 1 year, and to make regulations within 5 years, to extend the right to access repair at affordable prices, including outside guarantee, and design for durability and repair. It also requires the Secretary of State to consult with certain prescribed persons in meeting the duties.

Clause 239

LORD LUCAS

Member's explanatory statement

Trading Standards operate an “intelligence led” approach – letting complaints build up before taking action, and then needing time to investigate and then time to get before a court. This could lead to offences “timing out” if the limit was only one year.

Clause 243

LORD CLEMENT-JONES

146 Clause 243, page 161, line 29, after “consumer” insert “(exercised directly, or indirectly through the use of a third party)”

Member's explanatory statement

The definition of average consumer can stop Trading Standards taking action on things that seem obviously wrong but for which the counter argument is that the average consumer would not be misled. Subsection (4) could be particularly unsafe: products/services aimed at a vulnerable group would have a lower standard of protection, when they ought to have a higher one.

Clause 249

LORD OFFORD OF GARVEL

147 Clause 249, page 164, line 20, leave out subsection (2) to (6) and insert –

LORD CLEMENT-JONES

167 Schedule 21, page 370, line 36, leave out paragraph (8) and insert—

“(8) That the consumer may prevent the contract from automatically renewing.”

Member's explanatory statement

This amendment, alongside others to Clauses 254 and 255 and Schedule 21, seeks to maintain the flexibility for traders as currently provided by the Consumer Contracts (Information Cancellation and Additional Charges) Regulations 2013 by taking account of the limited time and space available for providing pre-contract information for certain formats and connected devices and recognising that certain key pre-contract information may be apparent from the context.

LORD LUCAS

168 Schedule 21, page 371, line 10, at end insert—

“12 A summary of the charges that the consumer may incur if they use the service during a cooling-off period but then cancel the contract.”

Member's explanatory statement

Alongside another amendment in the name of Lord Lucas, the purpose of this amendment is to focus discussion on how use of a subscription contract during a cooling-off period is charged for if the contract is cancelled within the cooling-off period, and the information that the trader must publish in that regard.

BARONESS JONES OF WHITCHURCH

169 Schedule 21, page 372, line 37, after “diminished,” insert “including (but not limited to) the user of a digital service having already consumed content prior to the consumer’s request to cancel the contract,”

Member's explanatory statement

This amendment is to probe whether the Government is confident that the Bill’s subscription provisions provide sufficient protection for digital platforms which host copyrighted content (e.g. on-demand video) and may be disadvantaged if they have to provide a full refund even if a consumer has accessed paid-for content during a cooling-off period.

“(2A) For contracts entered into online such express acknowledgement can be achieved by the consumer activating a button with the words “order with obligation to pay” or a corresponding unambiguous formulation indicating that placing the order entails an obligation to pay the trader.”

LORD CLEMENT-JONES

This amendment replaces Amendment 171 and corrects its position on the Marshalled List.

172A Clause 255, page 168, line 39, leave out subsections (3) and (4)

After Clause 255

BARONESS JONES OF WHITCHURCH

173 After Clause 255, insert the following new Clause –

“Contract renewal: option to opt in

- (1) Before a trader enters into a subscription contract with a consumer where section 252(2) applies, the trader must ask the consumer whether they wish to opt-in to an arrangement under which the contract renews automatically at one or more of the following times –
 - (a) after a period of six months and every six months thereafter, or
 - (b) if the period between the consumer being charged for the first and second time is longer than six months, each time payment is due.
- (2) If the consumer does not opt-in to such an arrangement, the trader must provide a date by which the consumer must notify the trader of the consumer’s intention to renew the contract, which must be no earlier than 28 days before the renewal date.
- (3) If the consumer has not –
 - (a) opted into an arrangement under subsection (1), or
 - (b) given notification of the consumer’s intention to renew by the date specified under subsection (2), the contract will lapse on the renewal date.”

Member's explanatory statement

This new Clause would allow the consumer to opt-out of their subscription auto-renewing every six months, or if the period between payments is longer than six months, before every payment. If the consumer does not opt-in to auto-renewal, they would be required to notify the trader manually about renewing.

LORD CLEMENT-JONES

174 After Clause 255, insert the following new Clause –

“Contract renewal: variable rate contracts

- (1) Before a trader enters into a subscription contract with a consumer where section 252(3) applies, the trader must ask the consumer whether they wish to opt into an arrangement under which the contract renews automatically on the date the consumer becomes liable for the first charge or the first higher charge.
- (2) If the consumer does not opt into an arrangement under subsection (1), the trader must provide a date by which the consumer must notify the trader of the consumer’s intention to renew the contract, which must be no earlier than five days before the renewal date.
- (3) The trader must also ask the consumer whether they wish to opt into an arrangement under which the contract renews automatically –
 - (a) after a period of either six months from the first charge or higher charge and every six months thereafter, or
 - (b) if the period between the consumer being charged for the first and second time is longer than six months, each time payment is due.
- (4) If the consumer does not opt into an arrangement under subsection (3), the trader must provide a date by which the consumer must notify the trader of the consumer’s intention to renew the contract, which must be no earlier than 28 days before the renewal date.
- (5) If the consumer has not –
 - (a) opted into an arrangement under subsection (1) or subsection (3), or
 - (b) given notification of the consumer’s intention to renew by the date specified under (as the case may be) subsection (2) or subsection (4),the contract will lapse on the next renewal date.”

Member's explanatory statement

This new Clause would introduce an option for the consumer to opt-out of their subscription auto-renewing after their free or discounted trial. Otherwise, they would have to notify the trader manually about the subscription continuing. It also introduces an option for the consumer to opt-out of their subscription auto-renewing.

VISCOUNT COLVILLE OF CULROSS
LORD CLEMENT-JONES

190 Clause 259, page 173, line 15, at end insert –

Member's explanatory statement

This amendment will ensure that at the end of a contract a consumer’s non personal data can be returned to them and the trader will not be able to continue using their data. As the bill stands personal data which identifies a person is protected in law, but their other data does not receive such protection.

Member's explanatory statement

BARONESS JONES OF WHITCHURCH
LORD CLEMENT-JONES
LORD MOYNIHAN

196 After Clause 288, insert the following new Clause –

“Consultation: CMA powers to address issues relating to ticket sales

 - (a) work already undertaken by the CMA in relation to the sale and resale of event tickets, and,
 - (b) proposals for the granting of new powers or duties for –
 - (i) the CMA,
 - (ii) trading standards officers, or

LORD CLEMENT-JONES
LORD MOYNIHAN

“Requirements on secondary ticketing facilities

- (2) A secondary ticketing facility must not permit a reseller to sell more tickets to an event that they can legally purchase from the primary market.””

Member's explanatory statement

This amendment would prevent secondary tickets sites from listing tickets for sale where the seller has not provided proof that they are actually able to sell them, or selling more tickets than they are legally able to purchase from the primary market. Both of these requirements are in line with recommendations made by the CMA.

LORD CLEMENT-JONES

198 After Clause 288, insert the following new Clause –

“Reporting requirement: secondary ticketing market

- (1) Within 12 months of the day on which this Act is passed and every 12 months thereafter, the Secretary of State must lay a report before Parliament on how the secondary ticketing market in the United Kingdom is functioning.

- (2) The information required under subsection (1) must include –
 - (a) whether there are spare parts or repair services available for the goods in question, and if so, how to access them and how much they are likely to cost; and “Review: tax rates for digital and high street businesses

- (1) Within the period of 6 months beginning with the day on which this Act is passed, the Secretary of State must undertake a review of the implications for competition of tax rates paid by business which operate –
 - (a) wholly online,
 - (b) wholly through physical premises, and
 - (c) both online and through physical premises.
- (2) In undertaking the review under subsection (1), the Secretary of State must –

 - (b) calculate an indicative average tax rate for each of the business categories mentioned in subsection (1),
 - (c) consider the consequences of any differences in the average tax rates mentioned in paragraph (b) on competition, and
 - (d) if there are significant differences between the average tax rates mentioned in paragraph (b), consider the case for reforming different forms of business taxation to reduce such differences.

- (4) Upon completion of the review, the Secretary of State must lay its findings before Parliament.”

Member's explanatory statement

This new Clause, which would require the Secretary of State to carry out a review of the implications for competition of effective tax rates of digital and high street businesses, is designed to probe the Government's plans for balancing the economic opportunities presented by firms operating in digital markets with the ongoing health of established brick-and-mortar businesses.

BARONESS JONES OF WHITCHURCH

215A After Clause 327, insert the following new Clause –

“Review: impact of infant formula sale and promotion legislation on consumers

- (1) Within 12 months of the passing of this Act, the Secretary of State must publish a review considering the impact of infant formula legislation on consumers.

 - (i) using coupons, vouchers, loyalty or gift cards, or other similar means to purchase infant formula at a discount;

 - (iv) the use of premiums, sales, discounts, loss leaders, and other similar means to induce the sale of infant formula by retail;
 - (v) any other promotional activity to induce the sale of infant formula by retail.
- (3) In this section –

“infant formula” means food intended for use by infants during the first months of life and satisfying by itself the nutritional requirements of such infants until the introduction of appropriate complementary feeding and which meets any requirements imposed by any enactment about the composition or ingredients of infant formula;

“existing infant formula legislation” means any primary or secondary legislation which refers to infant formula, including but not limited to the Food Safety Act 1990, the Food for Specific Groups (Food for Special Medical Purposes for Infants, Infant Formula and Follow-on Formula) (Information and Compositional Requirements) (Amendment etc.) (England) Regulations 2020, the Nutrition (Amendment etc.) (EU Exit) Regulations 2019 and Nutrition (Amendment etc.) (EU Exit) Regulations 2020.”

LORD CLEMENT-JONES

215C★ After Clause 327, insert the following new Clause –

“Standard Essential Patent Review

- (1) Within 60 days of the day on which this Act is passed, the Secretary of State must publish a report containing the conclusions and recommendations of the Intellectual Property Office’s review of the licensing in the United Kingdom of Standard Essential Patents (SEPs), including how to address any harms to consumers or competition caused by the seeking and imposition of injunctions on SEPs by SEP holders.
- (2) The CMA must, within 90 days of the day on which the report under subsection (1) is published, publish a response stating how it proposes to deal with any competition concerns identified in the report in relation to the licensing of SEPs that are subject to a voluntary, fair, reasonable and non-discriminatory terms commitment made by their owners at industry led standards setting organisations, including potential harms caused by the leverage of SEP injunctions on competition and thereby on consumers.
- (3) Subsections (1) and (2) apply only with respect to SEPs that their owners have voluntarily committed at industry-led standard setting organisations to license on fair, reasonable and non-discriminatory terms and not any other intellectual property rights.
- (4) Within 21 sitting days of the publication of the CMA's response under subsection (2), a Minister of the Crown must lay a statement before Parliament setting out how they propose to proceed in light of the response.
- (5) A Minister of the Crown must make a statement in Parliament within one year of the day on which this Act is passed.”

Member's explanatory statement

This amendment sets a timetable for the government to publish the IPO's report on the licensing of Standard Essential Patents, and a subsequent timetable for the CMA to respond to this review. It also provides for subsequent debates in both Houses of Parliament.

Clause 328

LORD OFFORD OF GARVEL

Member's explanatory statement

This amendment would make it clear that provisions in the Bill imposing or conferring duties or powers to process information do not require or authorise the processing of information which would contravene the data protection legislation.

After Clause 329

LORD OFFORD OF GARVEL

A duty to consult under or by virtue of this Act may be satisfied by consultation that took place wholly or partly before the passing of this Act.”

“Minor and consequential amendments

Schedule (Minor and consequential amendments) contains minor and consequential amendments.”

Clause 332

219A Clause 332, page 234, line 33, at end insert –

“(7) Regulations under Part 4, Chapter 1 must be prefaced with an interpretive section.”

Member's explanatory statement

Now that the new law is UK law, rather than EU law, the way in which the new system operates should be made clear on the face of the regulations.

LORD HOLMES OF RICHMOND

222 Clause 334, page 235, line 5, at end insert –

“(1A) Regulations commencing sections 19, 21, 46 and 86 may not be made until the Secretary of State has published guidance on how the appeals standard for financial penalties, proportionality and the countervailing benefits exemptions set out in those sections will operate.”

LORD OFFORD OF GARVEL

223 Clause 334, page 235, line 9, after “Part” insert “other than section (Minor and consequential amendments) (and Schedule (Minor and consequential amendments))”
