“Interpretation: sections (Honour as an aggravating factor in sentencing) and (Duty to issue statutory multi-agency guidance)

For the purposes of criminal law “Honour-based abuse” means an incident or pattern of violence, threats of violence, intimidation, coercion, control or abuse (including but not limited to psychological, physical, sexual, economic, spiritual, faith-related or emotional abuse) motivated by the perpetrator’s perception that an individual has shamed, or may shame, the perpetrator, the family, or community, or has otherwise broken, or may break, the perceived norms of the community’s accepted behaviours, including by speaking out about the abuse, and where the perception of shame may also prevent a victim from accessing support or help.”

Member’s explanatory statement

This amendment provides a statutory definition of “Honour-Based Abuse”. It defines the term as an incident or pattern of abuse motivated by a perception that a person has brought or may bring shame or dishonour upon a family or community. The definition is intended to capture the range of behaviours that can constitute such abuse, including physical, psychological, sexual, economic, or other forms of coercive control.

- (3) The proposal for an independent commission must set out a timetable for its work including that —
 - (a) the commission should conclude its deliberations within nine months of its establishment, and
 - (b) the Secretary of State must lay a copy of the report before both Houses of Parliament and ensure that time is made available, within a fortnight of the report being laid, in both Houses for a substantive debate on the report’s conclusions.”

Member’s explanatory statement

Member's explanatory statement

“relevant offence” and “public interest compensation order” have the same meaning as in Section 133 of the Sentencing Act 2020.”.

Member's explanatory statement

This amendment seeks to amend the Proceeds of Crime Act 2002. assisting in lawful arrest of others. In those circumstances, provided they acted in the honest belief that the amount of force was necessary and reasonable then they will be convicted of manslaughter and not murder.
