"front-line health services" means services provided directly for the prevention, diagnosis or treatment of illness, or for the care of patients;

"NHS England" means the National Health Service Commissioning Board."

Member's explanatory statement

This new clause would require the Secretary of State to publish an independently reviewed transition plan before commencing the abolition of NHS England.

BARONESS WALMSLEY
BARONESS TYLER OF ENFIELD

Clause 4, page 3, line 24, leave out "have regard to the need to" and insert "take steps to achieve"

BARONESS WALMSLEY
BARONESS TYLER OF ENFIELD

Clause 4, page 3, line 25, leave out "reduce inequalities" and insert "a reduction in inequalities"

LORD HUNT OF KINGS HEATH

"(c) reduce inequalities between the people of England with respect to their ability to access services and make provision for a system of equitable distribution of general medical practitioners in England."

The amendment seeks to ensure that in relation to the Secretary of State's responsibility to reduce inequalities this must embrace access to services including ensuring of equitable distribution of general medical practitioners.

LORD RENNARD

Clause 4, page 3, line 29, at end insert—

"(c) reduce inequalities in the prevention, diagnosis and treatment of diabetes, including variation in access to structured education, glucose monitoring technology and insulin pump therapy."

Member's explanatory statement
This amendment would make diabetes-related health inequalities an explicit, named consideration within the Secretary of State's general duty to reduce inequalities, rather than leaving diabetes provision to be addressed only implicitly.

After Clause 4

BARONESS TYLER OF ENFIELD

★ After Clause 4, insert the following new Clause—

"Health inequalities: strategy and annual report

(1) The Secretary of State must, within 12 months of the day on which this Act is passed, publish a cross-government strategy for reducing health inequalities in England, setting out the steps to be taken by the Secretary of State and other Ministers of the Crown.

(2) The Secretary of State must lay before Parliament, at least once in each calendar year, a report on progress in reducing health inequalities in England and in implementing the strategy."

Clause 5

LORD BLACKWELL
THE LORD BISHOP OF NEWCASTLE

Clause 5, page 3, line 34, after "carers" insert ", health and care partners,"

Member's explanatory statement
This amendment seeks to ensure that health and care partners can be involved in decisions about a patient.

LORD KAMALL
EARL HOWE

Clause 5, page 4, leave out lines 2 to 4 and insert—

"(1) In exercising functions in relation to the health service, the Secretary of State must act with a view to enabling patients to make choices with respect to aspects of health services provided to them, including to make choices as to the provider of those services.

(2) For the purposes of subsection (1), the Secretary of State must ensure that patients who are referred for a service to be provided outside a hospital setting ("out-of-hospital services") are offered a choice of provider of that service from among the providers available in their integrated care board area and, where relevant, in neighbouring areas, in accordance with regulations made under section 14Z45B.

(3) Regulations under section 14Z45B must provide that, where an out-of-hospital service is to be provided to a patient, the integrated care board must—

(a) offer the patient a meaningful choice of at least two providers capable of providing the service, which may include NHS bodies and independent sector providers approved to provide that service under arrangements with the integrated care board,

(b) provide the patient with information to support an informed choice, including for each available provider—

(i) indicative waiting times,

(ii) the location at which the service would be provided,

(iii) the quality ratings or outcomes data applicable to that provider for that service where such data is available, and

(iv) whether any costs would be incurred by the patient in travelling to or receiving the service at that provider,

(c) not exclude from the list of available providers any provider approved solely on grounds of commercial interest or organisational type, and

(d) take all reasonable steps to give effect to the patient's choice within a clinically appropriate timeframe.

(4) For the purposes of this section, "out-of-hospital services" means services—

(a) provided in community, primary care or ambulatory settings rather than in a hospital inpatient or outpatient department, and

(b) which the Secretary of State specifies by regulations as being within the scope of the choice obligation under subsection (2), and may include diagnostic services, audiology and hearing aid care, podiatry, dietetics and nutrition, physiotherapy, ambulatory cardiac monitoring and such other services as the Secretary of State may specify.

(5) In specifying services under subsection (4)(b), the Secretary of State must have regard to—

(a) the potential for the expansion of choice to reduce waiting times for the relevant service,

(b) the availability of sufficient independent and NHS providers to make genuine choice meaningful, and

(c) the desirability of ensuring access to choice for patients in all parts of England, including in rural and deprived areas.

(6) The Secretary of State must publish, and lay before Parliament, within 12 months of the date on which this Act is passed, a statement setting out—

(a) the out-of-hospital services for which choice obligations under subsection (2) will initially apply,

(b) the timetable for extending the choice obligation to further services, and

(c) the support that will be made available to patients, in particular those with limited digital access or literacy, to exercise the choices to which they are entitled under this section.

(7) The Secretary of State must review and update the statement required by subsection (6) at intervals of not more than two years."

Member's explanatory statement
This amendment strengthens the new patient choice duty inserted by Clause 5 to provide a specific right to choose between providers for out-of-hospital services.

Clause 6

LORD RENNARD

Clause 6, page 4, line 11, at end insert—

"(1A) The duty in subsection (1) includes, in particular, promoting innovation in the prevention, diagnosis and treatment of diabetes, including through the adoption of glucose monitoring and automated insulin delivery technologies."

Member's explanatory statement
This amendment would ensure that the existing duty to promote innovation is understood to cover the specific diabetes technologies (flash/CGM and hybrid closed loop systems) currently being rolled out by NHS England, so that momentum on adoption is not lost through the transfer of functions.

Clause 7

BARONESS SHAWCROSS-WOLFSON

Clause 7, page 4, line 31 at end insert—

"(1A) The Secretary of State must publish an independently verified long-term assessment of the workforce needs of the health service and a ten year education and training plan to deliver on those needs.

(1C) The Secretary of State must keep the assessment and plan under review and revise both at least once every five years."

Clause 8

LORD KAMALL
EARL HOWE

Clause 8, page 5, leave out lines 19 to 24 and insert—

"(5) Where the Secretary of State has given a direction under subsection (1) the Secretary of State must publish a statement before the end of the period of seven working days beginning with the day on which the direction is given.

(6) A statement published under subsection (5) must set out—

(a) the statutory function in respect of which the direction is given,

(b) the reasons for giving the direction,

(c) the period for which the direction is to have effect,

(d) the date by which the operation of the direction is to be reviewed,

(e) any payment which the Secretary of State has made, or intends to make, to an integrated care board under subsection (4) in connection with the direction,

(f) the Secretary of State's assessment of the financial and operational effects of the direction on each integrated care board to which it applies,

(g) the Secretary of State's assessment of the effect of the direction on the ability of each integrated care board to meet the needs and priorities of its local population, and

(h) the respective responsibilities of the Secretary of State and each integrated care board to which the direction applies for the exercise of the function and for any outcomes arising from its exercise.

(7) If the Secretary of State varies or revokes a direction under this section, the Secretary of State must publish—

(a) the variation or revocation before the end of the period of seven days beginning with the day on which a direction is made, and

(b) a statement setting out the reasons for the variation or revocation and its expected financial and operational effects."

Member's explanatory statement

Clause 10

BARONESS COFFEY

Clause 10, page 6, line 21, leave out "the health service" and insert "patients"

Member's explanatory statement
This shifts the emphasis by acting on what is in the best interest of patients' needs rather than the organisation.

EARL HOWE
LORD PATEL OF BRADFORD

The above-named Lords give notice of their intention to oppose the Question that Clause 10 stand part of the Bill.

Member's explanatory statement
This is to probe the reasons behind this Clause and the Government's intentions with regard to private sector involvement in the NHS.

Clause 11

LORD KAMALL
EARL HOWE

Clause 11, page 7, line 6, at end insert—

"(3A) The Secretary of State may give a direction under this section only if satisfied that—

(a) the objective of the direction cannot reasonably be achieved by—

(i) the giving of guidance,

(ii) agreement with the integrated care board,

(iii) the exercise of existing oversight or performance management arrangements, or

(iv) any other means which would involve less restriction of the integrated care board's discretion,

(b) the direction is necessary and proportionate to the objective which it seeks to achieve,

(c) the benefits expected to arise from the direction, including any benefits arising from consistency between different areas, outweigh any restriction which the direction would place on the ability of the integrated care board to respond to the needs and priorities of its local population, and

(d) the integrated care board has been consulted in accordance with subsection (3C).

(3B) In deciding whether to give a direction under this section, and in determining the terms of any such direction, the Secretary of State must have regard to—

(a) the desirability of decisions relating to the provision of health services being taken at the most local level reasonably appropriate,

(b) the desirability of integrated care boards having sufficient autonomy to respond to the needs and priorities of their local populations,

(c) the importance of maintaining clear and identifiable responsibility for decisions and outcomes,

(d) the likely financial and operational effects of the direction on the integrated care board, and

(e) the availability to the integrated care board of the resources necessary to comply with the direction.

(3C) Before giving a direction under this section, the Secretary of State must—

(a) provide the integrated care board with a proposed draft of the direction,

(b) provide the integrated care board with a statement of—

(i) the objective of the proposed direction,

(ii) the reasons why the Secretary of State considers the conditions in subsection (3A)(a) to (c) to be satisfied,

(iii) the expected financial and operational effects of the proposed direction, and

(iv) any additional financial or other resources which the Secretary of State proposes to make available to enable the integrated care board to comply with the direction,

(c) allow the integrated care board a reasonable period in which to make representations, and

(d) have regard to any representations made by the integrated care board.

(3D) The Secretary of State may give a direction without complying with subsection (3A)(d) or (3C) only if satisfied that—

(a) there is an urgent need to protect the health or safety of the public or the continuity of essential health services, and

(b) the delay involved in complying with those subsections would create a serious risk of harm.

(3E) Where the Secretary of State gives a direction in reliance on subsection (3D), the Secretary of State must—

(a) consult the integrated care board as soon as reasonably practicable after giving the direction,

(b) provide the integrated care board with the information specified in subsection (3C)(b),

(c) have regard to any representations subsequently made by the integrated care board, and

(d) before the end of the period of 28 days beginning with the day on which the direction was given, decide whether to confirm, vary or revoke the direction.

(3F) A direction given in reliance on subsection (3D) ceases to have effect at the end of the period specified in subsection (3E)(d) unless, before the end of that period, the Secretary of State—

(a) confirms or varies the direction,

(b) publishes the reasons for that decision, and

(c) publishes an assessment of whether the conditions in subsection (3A)(a) to (c) continue to be satisfied.

(3G) A direction under this section must be no broader, and remain in effect for no longer, than is necessary to achieve its stated objective."

Member's explanatory statement
This amendment would provide that the Secretary of State may direct an integrated care board only where the objective cannot reasonably be achieved through guidance, agreement, existing oversight arrangements or another less restrictive means, and where the direction is necessary and proportionate.

LORD KAMALL
EARL HOWE

Clause 11, page 7, leave out lines 10 to 17 and insert—

"(5) Where the Secretary of State has given a direction under subsection (1) the Secretary of State must publish a statement before the end of the period of seven working days beginning with the day on which the direction is given.

(6) A statement published under subsection (5) must set out—

(a) the statutory function to which the direction relates,

(b) the legal basis for the direction,

(c) the reasons for giving the direction,

(d) the period for which the direction is to have effect,

(e) the date by which the operation of the direction is to be reviewed,

(f) the Secretary of State's assessment of the financial and operational effects of the direction on each integrated care board to which it applies,

(g) whether any additional funding or other resources are to be made available to an integrated care board for the purpose of complying with the direction and, if so, the amount or description of those resources,

(h) the Secretary of State's assessment of whether, and to what extent, the direction restricts the ability of an integrated care board to determine or meet the needs and priorities of its local population,

(i) the outcomes which the direction is intended to achieve, and

(j) the respective responsibilities of the Secretary of State and each integrated care board to which the direction applies for decisions taken and outcomes arising while the direction is in effect.

(7) Where a direction is given in reliance on subsection (3), the statement under subsection (6) must also—

(a) identify the opinion formed by the Secretary of State,

(b) set out the reasons for that opinion, and

(c) explain why the Secretary of State considers it appropriate for the integrated care board not to form its own opinion in relation to the exercise of the function.

(8) If the Secretary of State varies or revokes a direction under this section, the Secretary of State must—

(a) publish the variation or revocation before the end of the period of seven days beginning with the day on which it is made, and

(b) publish a statement setting out the reasons for the variation or revocation and its expected financial and operational effects."

Member's explanatory statement

This amendment would require a statement to be published within seven working days of a general direction to an integrated care board being issued, and would require the Secretary of State to publish the reasons for the direction, its duration, resources available for compliance, and intended outcomes.

Member's explanatory statement
The Secretary of State is currently required to set cancer outcome objectives for NHS England, with those objectives taking priority over other cancer goals. The Health Bill removes this provision. This new clause would place a new duty on the Secretary of State to prioritise cancer outcomes such as survival.

(3) After subsection (1) insert—

(5) Before exercising a power under subsection (2), the board must, except in an emergency, give the provider a reasonable opportunity to make representations.

(6) Nothing in this section prevents an integrated care board from taking immediate action where delay would materially risk patient safety or continuity of medicines supply.""

Member's explanatory statement

This amendment would give integrated care boards powers to intervene where a pharmacy provider is failing to provide their required services to protect patients and medicines supply.

BARONESS JANKE

Schedule 1, page 82, line 40, at end insert—

"(3D) Regulations made under subsection (1) must ensure that the remuneration arrangements for pharmaceutical services take account of the costs of providing those services in rural and sparsely populated areas.

After Clause 17

LORD HUNT OF KINGS HEATH

★ After Clause 17, insert the following new Clause—

"Prescribed specialised services

(1) The Secretary of State must by regulations made by statutory instrument specify, based on clearly defined criteria, the services provided as part of the health service in England which are to be treated as specialised services ("prescribed specialised services"), and must publish the full list of such services.

(2) Prescribed specialised services include both—

(a) services for which commissioning responsibility is exercised by the Secretary of State, and

(b) services for which commissioning responsibility is exercised by one or more integrated care boards.

(a) planning of the commissioning arrangements;

(b) design of services and arrangements for service delivery;

(c) monitoring of the performance of specialised services.

(4) The Secretary of State is accountable for national oversight of all prescribed specialised services and must exercise functions in relation to those services with a view to securing equitable access for patients across England.

(8) Assistance or support under subsection (7) may include facilitating and establishing a relationship between a new provider and the manufacturers or suppliers of medicines and other pharmaceutical products.

(9) The assistance and support under subsection (7) must be available, in particular, where a new provider is—

(c) an independent provider or a provider which is not part of a large company operating multiple pharmacy premises.

(10) The purpose of assistance and support under this section is to enable the new provider to secure supplies of medicines and other pharmaceutical products as quickly as reasonably practicable and to minimise any interruption in the provision of pharmaceutical services."

Member's explanatory statement
This amendment would require the Government and integrated care boards to support new and independent pharmacy owners taking over failing, closed or disrupted pharmacies, including by helping them establish relationships with pharmaceutical manufacturers and suppliers so that they can secure medicines and other supplies quickly and maintain continuity of service.

(3) Regulations under this section may make provision about—
  (a) the description of services that constitute "primary care services" for the purposes of this section;
  (b) how compliance with the primary care investment standard is to be measured, monitored and enforced;
  (c) circumstances in which the standard may be varied or disapplied.

(4) A statutory instrument containing regulations under this section may not be made unless a draft of the instrument has been laid before, and approved by a resolution of, each House of Parliament."

LORD CLEMENT-JONES

Clause 52, page 36, line 28, leave out "including" and insert "solely for the purposes of"

Member's explanatory statement
This amendment would ensure that regulations requiring or authorising the making available of patient information through the single patient record system can only make provision in respect of the circumstances set out in the Bill.

LORD CLEMENT-JONES

Clause 52, page 36, leave out lines 38 to 40

Member's explanatory statement
This amendment would remove the power for regulations to provide that processing information in accordance with them does not breach any obligation of confidence.

BARONESS THORNTON

Clause 52, page 37, line 3, at end insert—

"(4A) In making the regulations the Secretary of State must have regard to the need to ensure—

(b) that a clear national route for relevant social care data is made available to authorised health and care professionals without requiring separate local integrations for every provider and area."

Member's explanatory statement
The amendment is designed to ensure that in establishing a single patient record, this should embrace relevant social care data and that adult social care providers and people drawing on care are represented in its design.

LORD KAMALL
EARL HOWE

Clause 52, page 37, line 9, at end insert—

After Clause 52

LORD CLEMENT-JONES

After Clause 52, insert the following new Clause—

(3) The regulations may not permit an opt-out to be overridden except where required by an order of a court or where necessary to protect the patient's life."

Member's explanatory statement
This new clause would give patients a statutory right to opt out of the single patient record, or of their information being used for purposes other than their direct care. Patients could opt out through their GP practice, online (for example through the NHS App) or by other accessible means, and an opt-out could be overridden only by court order or to protect life.

LORD CLEMENT-JONES

After Clause 52, insert the following new Clause—
